

Wall Street Journal: Real-Estate Manager Lafayette Settles Covid Fraud Case

In “Real-Estate Manager Lafayette Settles Covid Fraud Case” (The Wall Street Journal, December 19, 2024), The Wall Street Journal discusses Lafayette RE Management, and its founder, who agreed to settle a whistleblower action for allegedly abusing a federal pandemic loans program meant for small businesses. The firm, accused of obtaining a paycheck protection program loan under false pretenses, settled with the U.S. Justice Department, which intervened in the case.

Pollock Cohen partner Adam Pollock and Max Rodriguez of Max Rodriguez Law represented the whistleblower in this case.
